

Avatec[®] is the only in-feed coccidiostat licensed for use in UK game birds

Feeds containing Avatec[®] can be fed to pheasants, partridges, guinea fowl and quails from day-old

You must not allow any game birds of a shootable age access to feed containing Avatec[®]

For meat to be safe for human consumption a 5 day lay off period is required *

All feeders containing Avatec[®] / medicated feed must be empty prior to topping up with non-medicated feed

Always store medicated feeds and feeds containing Avatec[®] separately from plain feeds and use medicated feed up first

*All game meat should be fit for human consumption whether for domestic or export use
